WHAT YOUNG MEN CAN DO
TO PREVENT BULLYING & SEXUAL HARASSMENT

You might think you can’t help prevent bullying and sexual harassment. Not true.

Read the list below to learn what you and your friends can do every day. It can be something small or large. Whatever you do, you’re making a difference. Don't stand on the sidelines!

BE BOLD

Understand how you can help
Helping to prevent bullying and harassment is about small steps. You don’t have to move a mountain. Decide what kinds of actions feel safe. Everyone taking small steps adds up to big steps.

Decide who you want to be
Consider whether messages like “stop acting like a little girl!” lead young men to prove they aren’t acting like a girl by bullying and harassing. Choose what kind of young man you want to be. We need positive role models like you.

Talk it over
Don’t wait to deal with the problem after it’s occurred. If you’re troubled by bullying and harassment and want to do something about it, talk to a friend or a trusted adult. Two heads are better than one.

Get a different perspective
Ask young women how bullying and harassment affects their daily lives. Listen and learn from them about their experiences. Not only will they help you make better choices about your own behavior, they’ll help you be more convincing when you’re persuading your friends not to bullying and harass.

Show your strength
Don’t bully or harass anyone. Make a pledge to be a young man whose strength is used for respect.

BE STRONG

Ask guys
Ask other young men if they’re bothered by bullying and harassment. You might think you’re the only one, but it’s more likely that plenty of other young men feel the same way you do.

Be aware of pop culture
We are surrounded daily by TV shows, music, magazines, video games, and movies that communicate messages about bullying, and harassment. Don’t let images in popular culture decide your behavior.

TAKE ACTION!

Choose words carefully
When you use words to bully or harass someone, you support the belief that they are less than fully human. It is easier to ignore someone’s well-being when they are seen as inferior. Choose language that respects people.

Speak out
Start with friends. Maybe you say you don’t find it funny when a friend is making fun of someone. Maybe you say you don’t like some disrespectful language a friend used. Speaking out to people you know will be good practice for speaking out to others you don't know as well.

Get involved!
Get involved in student government and become a spokesperson for anti-bullying and harassment at your school. Maybe there are already student groups that would care about preventing these behaviors. If not, start one.
